The International Pancreas and Islet Transplantation Association aims to serve the pancreas and islet transplant scientific community in providing a forum for the open exchange of knowledge and expertise in order to facilitate the advancement of the clinical practice of pancreas and islet transplantation for the treatment of human diabetes.

"I would like to ask you all to encourage your colleagues and team members to become members of IPITA if they are not already. These are exciting days ahead, and it would be good if as many people involved in the fields of whole pancreas and islet transplantation (both clinical and research staff) are members of this important Association."

Paul R.V. Johnson
Professor of Paediatric Surgery, Nuffield Dept. of Surgery, University of Oxford
