

INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY FOR ORGAN DONATION PROFESSIONALS

CALL FOR LETTERS OF INTENT

TO HOST THE ISODP 2027 INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

About the International Society for Organ Donation Professionals (ISODP)

ISODP aims to foster, promote and develop all aspects of organ and tissue donation. It seeks to do so primarily through supporting the knowledge and skills development of professionals working in organ donation, as well as opportunities for networking and collaboration. The ultimate aims are to increase the supply of high-quality organs and tissue to match patients' needs and to promote countries increasing performance towards self-sufficiency and improved opportunity for transplantation.

Aims of the Society:

The ISODP is the global organization to foster, promote, and develop organ and tissue donation and procurement through:

- improving organ and tissue donation practices
- enable information sharing
- strengthening international networking for donation professionals

ISODP Congress History

Every two years, the ISODP Congress brings together clinicians, donation organisation leaders, and scientists from all parts of the world in the fields of organ and tissue donation.
