TTS

The Transplantation Society

By joining TTS, you invest in your career, in one of the most dynamic professions in medical science and contribute to the development of future professionals in this field.

With over 5,000 members in more than 105 countries, The Transplantation Society, established in 1966, is the leading international society of medical professionals involved in the transplantation of organs and tissues. TTS is also proud to have distinguished Sections focussing on particular aspects of transplantation to further advance our shared mission.

The Transplantation Society will provide the focus for global leadership in transplantation through:

- the advancement and development of both the science and clinical practice of transplantation throughout the world;
- the scientific communication, continuing education of its membership, and guidance on the ethical practice of transplantation.

TTS TRIBUNE PULSE

The TTS Tribune Pulse is an e-publication linking to the latest news in transplantation science and topical transplantation-related issues. It is emailed weekly to help members stay up-to-date. Read up on updates from our committees and initiatives, including:

- Hot articles from Transplantation and Transplantation Direct
- Upcoming webinars and recent recordings
- Announcements from our official Sections
- Transplantation news from around the world

OUR LOGO

The significance to TTS is the portrayal of two right hands symbolizing the donor and recipient in solid organ transplantation.

1908 Rodin creates the sculpture La Cathédrale

1966 TTS was founded

1971 Prof. Jean Hamburger commissions Hôtel des Monnaies to create a seal for TTS and the Society adopts it as the official logo

MEMBERSHIP BY REGION

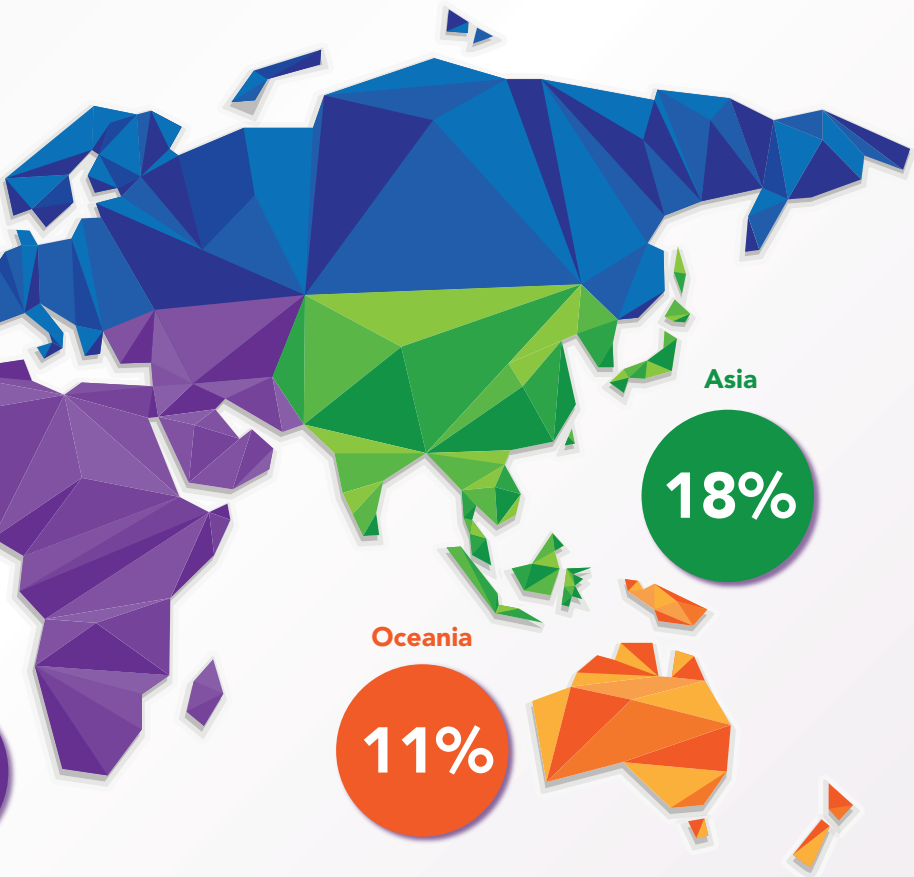

“ My mentor, Francis Delmonico, had strong links with TTS and spoke to me about the many opportunities within TTS to build an African presence and a presence for the developing world. Not only does the society have great learning and scientific opportunities – it also has a great community of people. ”

Elmi Muller, MD
TTS President

When you join TTS, you gain access to an online membership directory representing 5000+ members from 105 countries, and you are helping to develop the field of transplantation around the world!

“ TTS is truly the international organization that encompasses all scientific, clinical and ethical aspects of transplantation. As the very first transplant organization, it has grown to include representatives from around the globe and has collaborative relationships with other transplant organizations, non-governmental and governmental agencies that oversee transplantation, as well as religious and community ties. I joined TTS to learn what others are doing, to inform others of what I am doing, to share ideas of how to improve transplantation and to keep in touch with colleagues and friends from around the world. ”

John J. Fung, MD
TTS President-Elect

Transplantation Journals

The Editors and Editorial Board are an international group of research and clinical leaders, representing a diverse range of expertise. This capable editorial team provides thoughtful and thorough peer review, and delivers rapid, careful and insightful editorial evaluation of all manuscripts submitted to the journal.

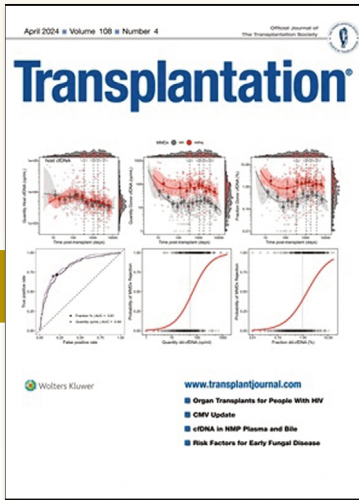

Impact Factor: 2.3

Transplantation Direct

Through close association with The Transplantation Society and its International Sections, as well as the journal Transplantation, Transplantation Direct is an open access portal for international transplantation with rapid electronic publication of peer-reviewed, high-quality basic research and clinical studies related to the field of transplantation. The journal provides both scientific innovation and educational material, disseminates vital registry database information and highlights key scientific advances presented at meetings held by global transplantation associations. The inherent flexible capacity of multimedia electronic publishing combined with high standards of peer review set by exceptional leaders within the transplantation community allow for an inclusive, comprehensive, and yet rigorous approach to presenting significant developments in transplantation.

TTS members receive free online access to Transplantation

Impact Factor: 6.2

Transplantation is published monthly and remains the most cited and influential journal in the field with more than 25,000 citations per year. For over 50 years, the journal has been a trusted source for extensive and timely coverage of the most important advances in transplantation. The journal was the first to offer CME credit to its peer reviewers.

Consistently ranked among the top impact factor journals in transplantation, surgery and immunology (Journal Citation Reports), the Journal publishes original research articles of basic and clinical science across all organs and tissues. Special Features such as People in Transplantation and Around the World bring insights into the researchers who choose transplantation and reviews global transplantation programs. Research Highlights and Game Changer articles review research that is changing practice.
